

Hospital Bag Checklist

FEEDING ESSENTIALS

- For breastfeeding baby
Breast pads, lanolin/nipple cream and a nursing pillow.
- For bottle feeding baby
Bottles, formula, a bottle brush, and a nursing pillow.

FOR THE DELIVERY AND AFTER

- Toiletries
Toothbrush, toothpaste, deodorant, bodywash, facial cleanser, moisturizer, and toilet paper.
- Towels
Two towels and washcloths (plus some extras for the birth partner).
- Hair care
Shampoo, conditioner, dry shampoo, and a hairbrush.
- Flip-flops
A must for the hospital shower.
- Pads and extra maternity underwear
Heavy-duty sanitary pads and several pairs of cotton briefs that are ok to be thrown away.
- Eyewear
Glasses, lens cleaner, extra contact lenses, solution and case.
- Sleepwear
A sweatshirt/sweater, two pairs of pajamas.
- Robe or nightgown
Hospitals provide gowns, but there's nothing like one from home.
- Soft pillows
The hospital provides pillows, but they may not be very comfortable.
- Comfortable clothing and a going-home outfit
3 loose-fitting outfits, a few pairs of socks, underwear and comfortable bras are a must.

FOR BABY

- Going-home outfit
A footed onesie, hat and any other items suited to the weather.
- Baby care items
Diapers, wipes, rash cream, socks, scratch mitts, and a hat.
- Baby blankets and burp cloths
Some for swaddling, some for feeding.
- Car seat
Make sure it's properly installed ahead of time and know how to fasten it correctly.
- Baby book
Capture baby's first moments by putting their footprints in their baby book.

ELECTRONICS

- Devices
Make sure everyone has their phones and chargers when heading to the hospital. If anyone plans to use a video camera or camera, bring that too.
- Music and headphones
Create a few relaxing playlists before the big day.
- Laptop/tablet/e-reader
Download some shows or books to help pass the time during a long labour and waiting for baby's arrival.
- Wi-Fi hotspot
Hospital Wi-Fi can be spotty; a personal hotspot can provide a backup.

FOR OLDER SIBLINGS

- Books/playing cards/puzzles
Pack a few things to help keep your other children occupied.
- Photos
Bring photos of your other kids so they can see they're on your mind, too.
- Gifts for older siblings
Give big brothers and sisters a present "from baby".

LEAVE THESE AT HOME

- Anything valuable
Jewelry needs to be taken off during delivery and nice clothing can become damaged or get lost, so might as well leave it all at home.
- Hazardous items
Avoid safety risks for everyone—especially baby—by keeping toys and other objects with small or potentially dangerous parts away.

FOR BIRTH PARTNER, PARENTS AND SURROGATES

- Snacks and drinks
The hospital only provides food after baby is born and only for the person who delivered, so be sure to bring some things for birth partners and for others to nibble on as they wait for baby's arrival.
- A journal or pen and paper
For keeping track of contractions, feeding sessions, or taking notes.
- Picture ID, insurance information, and hospital forms
The hospital will ask for these.
- Cash and change
Bring lots for the vending machines.
- An extra bag
To carry gifts and items from the hospital to home.
- Clothing
A change of outfit suitable to the weather.
- Other essentials
Glasses/contacts/toiletries/etc.
